

RELAY TEAM INFORMATION
2019 MUSEUM OF AVIATION FOUNDATION MARATHON
JANUARY 19, 2019

We'll need the information requested in the entry brochure for each team member.

Marathon relay teams will consist of six runners (unless one or more runners run more than one leg – see below).

All runners who have either military or government IDs can pick up your race packets between 2:00 and 4:00 p.m. on Friday in the Century of Flight hangar.

Each team is responsible for transporting members to the different starting points on the course. The first five members of the team will run 4-mile legs; the last runner will have a 6.2 mile leg. Starting points will be: for runner #1 is the starting line with the regular Marathon start. Runners 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 will start at miles 4, 8, 12, 16, and 20 respectively. The miles themselves are well marked, and in addition there will be signs saying “Relay Runner #2”, 3, 4 etc., so you should have no trouble finding the right spot.

The person starting the relay has to cross the STARTING line wearing the race bib with the timing chip and that same bib has to make it to the person crossing the FINISH line so the team's start and finish times are captured.

It is permissible for a relay team member to run more than one leg of the relay if so desired.

The winning team will receive the traveling “Commander’s Trophy” to display in their organization until next year. In addition, each member of the winning team will receive an individual trophy. All relay team members will receive marathon medals. The final runner on each team will receive a medal at the finish line. Please designate one team member to pick up the other five medals for the rest of the team.
